SHARP SPURT
DUE SOON IN
CAR INDUSTRYOUTPUT EXPECTED TO TAKE JUMP BY LATE JULY

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive

Detroit, June 17 (AP)—A general easing of supplier tie-ups is reported in the motorcar industry, leading to the belief that sharply increased car and truck production may be expected within the next few days.

Assembly plant activity has been lagging ever since post war operations began, largely because of strikes in the plants of supplier companies. Many of these have been settled and unless there is another outbreak car output should take a decided upward jump by the latter part of July.

Ford Reopens
On the basis of the present outlook all new car manufacturers should be in production by July 1. The Ford assembly plants in the United States are scheduled to reopen June 24 after a shut down of more than six weeks. The Canadian Ford plants resumed operations a week ago.

Reporting that plants in the United States and Canada last week turned out 46,792 units compared with a revised total of 39,351 for the preceding week, automotive news today said that "there are definite indications the weekly totals will continue on the upward trend." It added, however, that it will take some time for supplier plants, no longer strike-bound, to regain volume output.

The publication says two strike settlements last week prompted optimism in the plants and dealerships. One settlement ended a two-months tie-up in the Houdaille-Hershey plants. This strike had almost completely shut off the flow of bumpers to the car industry.

Copper Shortage Felt
A second settlement, automotive news said, terminated a five-month strike in 18 plants of the American Smelting & Refining Co. "This settlement," said the paper, "was expected to hasten accords at other large copper companies where strikes have been in progress. These shutdowns have precipitated a serious crisis in the supply of copper and other raw materials."

Plane In Manila

Pittsburgh, June 17 (AP)—Danny Schapper, 6, was reported recovering in Children's hospital tonight while his father, Daniel Schapper, remained for a fourth day in Manila, awaiting air transportation to the United States.

Mr. Schapper cabled Friday he was flying the 9,500 miles from Manila to the side of his son, then critically ill of a ruptured spleen. There had been no word since.

A report from Manila said Schapper is on emergency leave, has been set up for the "first available aircraft" and has "urgent priority."

Mrs. Schapper could not be reached tonight to give her the news that her husband had been located. Earlier she said she was "getting frantic" because she had received no word since the cable Friday.

Hot Teen-Age
Question Ties
Up Draft Law

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Conferees for both house and senate made compromise offers today which would subject 19-year-olds to the draft, but the hot question of taking youths of 18 still tied in knots the whole fate of selective service.

These were the alternatives offered:

1. A house offer to take 19 year olds and exempt 18 year olds. Senate conferees rejected this 4 to 3.

2. A senate offer to delay the draft of 18 year olds until all 19 year olds had been taken and until President Truman certified it was necessary. House conferees rejected this 4 to 3.

Unless somebody backs down, there is a possibility that the entire draft act will expire July 1. The senate's version of the draft extension bill would take youths of both 18 and 19, while that of the house would exempt both.

"It's just a matter of one conferee on either the house or senate side changing his mind," chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate military committee told reporters after two hour sessions both forenoon and afternoon had failed to break the deadlock.

Under conference rules each side has only one vote and this is determined by a majority of the senators and representatives on the committee. Thus a change by one senator or representative could swing the conference agreement.

"If the draft act is necessary, and the President said it is, secretary of state Byrnes said it is, and it will take some time for supplier plants, no longer strike-bound, to regain volume output."

Atomic Power Seen
As Chief Survival
Hope In Next War

Detroit, June 17 (AP)—Rear Admiral H. G. Bowen, USN, addressing the American Society of Mechanical Engineers here tonight, declared that in case of another conflict "our chief hope of survival would be that industry be placed on an atomic-power basis just as rapidly as possible."

"The navy's vigorous pursuance of atomic power," he asserted, "will contribute materially to this conversion in industry."

"It seems to me that the horror of the atomic bomb has blinded many minds to other possibilities of atomic energy and in particular, atomic power," Bowen said.

"The great thing of the future is atomic power, and as far as the navy is concerned, the effect of the transition from oil burning to atomic power will be as revolutionary as from sail to steam."

The navy, Bowen said, has been interested in the possibility of atomic power since 1939.

"The navy is not only the greatest single user of power, it is also the largest single technical organization in the world," Bowen, who is chief of the office of research and inventions, told the engineers.

"The use of atomic power for war vessels is justified now from military considerations. Its use in the merchant marine, whose vessels must carry huge loads of heavy fuel, will result in its economical use there, before it will be justified for use in central power plants."

"Eventually, however, atomic power has tremendous possibilities in the light and power industry. We believe the development of atomic power for naval vessels offers the very best opportunity to expedite its economical use by industry."

"It is obvious that until the scientists have augmented our present discoveries, atomic power will not be available to displace internal combustion engines in private automobiles, trucks, buses and aircraft. As a matter of fact, the only function which aircraft has in this atomic era at present is the delivery of atomic bombs to the target. Even this transportation by air vessels will probably be superseded eventually by the transportation afforded by guided missiles."

Jackson declined in an interview to offer any further comment on his controversy with his associate in the supreme court, Justice Hugo L. Black. Friends of Jackson here said he has made public all he intends to say upon that subject.

However, Justice Jackson noted in the interview that his job here is a Presidential assignment, indicating he would report directly to the President on his return.

This raised the possibility of a heart-to-heart talk with the chief executive in which the court controversy would be discussed.

Jackson made it clear that he is not resigning his post as prosecutor here, but that after July 15 in cases against the Nazi defendants would be complete. The International military tribunal's attention then will be focused on Nazi organizations such as the S. S., the German general staff and the Hitler youth he said.

Jackson recalled that he already argued the case against the organization in the early part of the trial. The groundwork for the cases now is being prepared by a special five-man commission.

Death Threat Sent To Christian Scientist
Healer; Father Held

Chicago, Ill., June 17 (AP)—Federal grand jury today indicted Edward P. Whitney, 45, Walled Lake, Mich., on charge of sending murder threat through the mails to William Rubert, Chicago, a Christian Science practitioner.

Judge John P. Barnes assigned the case to Judge Michael L. Igoe and set bond at $1,000.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward Bradley Jr. quoted Whitney as telling him that Whitney's 11-year-old daughter, Kay, a diabetic, died after faith healing attempts. Whitney said he operated an advertising agency and lived at 3127 Washington St., RFD 1, Walled Lake.

Army Pair Taken To Germany For Jewel Theft Trial

Washington, June 17 (AP)—Capt. Kathleen Nash Durant and her bridegroom Col. Jack W. Durant, were taken to Germany today for a speedy trial in connection with the removal of the Hesse crown jewels from Kronberg Castle.

Army headquarters in Frankfurt announced that they and Maj. David F. Watson, who was arrested in Germany, will be tried before Aug. 1.

The specific charges against the trio still were not announced although Capt. Frank M. Bosworth, assigned to the Durants as counsel, demanded last week that the charges, "if any," be filed.

The Army has reported the recovery of all the $1,500,000 worth of jewels and other Hesse family heirlooms which were removed from their hiding place in the cellar of Kronberg Castle, which was an officer's rest home supervised by the WAC captain.

Fifth Person Held As Suspect In Bank Holdup At Tecumseh

Detroit, June 17 (AP)—Police held a man in the Windsor, Ont., jail tonight whom they believe is the fifth person involved in the holdup of the Provincial Bank of Canada's Tecumseh branch last Wednesday.

Police identified him as Jack Chipperfield, 17. He pleaded innocent to a vagrancy charge when arraigned before Magistrate J. Arthur Hanrahan today. He was remanded to jail, without bond, for trial tomorrow.

Police said they believed Chipperfield was the driver of the automobile used by the five hooded bandits in their attempted get-away.

The men and a woman, arrested a few hours after the hold-up when they had fled in a small boat to Peche Island in the Detroit river, also are held in the Windsor jail on vagrancy charges.

Hot Weather Stroke Takes Photographer Of Lansing Journal

Lansing, June 17 (AP)—Gerald G. (Doc) Granger, widely known photographer for the Lansing State Journal, died today of apoplexy believed to have been induced by hot weather. He was 42 years of age.

Granger joined the staff of the State Journal 20 years ago as radio editor, became Day State editor and later chief photographer. His photographs were exhibited in many national and international salons and he acted as judge in a number of such exhibits.

He is survived by the widow, Katherine, and two children, Gerald, Jr., and Gloria.

Violinist Kreisler Seriously Ill With Peritonitis Attack

New York, June 17 (AP)—Fritz Kreisler, world famed violinist, was reported in a critical condition from peritonitis tonight by one of his physicians, who said the condition developed after an emergency operation for appendicitis performed last night.

The 71-year-old music master suffered a severe attack yesterday morning at his home, and the operation revealed a ruptured appendix and local peritonitis.

Kreisler showed much improvement today, the physician said, but he had not yet passed the critical stage.

Counties Can Get No More Veterans Money From State

Lansing, June 17 (AP)—Counties which have exhausted their veterans aid allocations cannot receive further special assistance from the Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund, Attorney General John R. Dethmers ruled today.

Dethmers said the legislature provided that only the surplus earnings of the $51,000,000 trust fund may be allocated to county committees on the basis of veteran population and there could be no distribution in excess of that formula.

"Cushion funds" to assist counties which have spent their allocation are not permitted, he declared.

FREAK WINDS LEVEL HOMES, KILL OVER 20

the mammoth Ford Motor company's Rouge plant, apparently this suffered no serious damage.

Strangely enough the other portions of sprawling Detroit with its more than 1,500,000 population suffered little. The wind was not heavy and the only damage was caused by heavy rain.

Electric power and telephone lines on the Canadian side were particularly hard hit and officials turned many other power lines off as a precautionary measure because of the danger of falling wires.

Waterspouts In River

Hospitals on the Canadian side were hard pressed as the power curtailment came as many injured were being rushed into the hospitals by first aid workers.

SLEEP SAVES THREE

Portland, June 17 (AP)—Riley Sanborn and his sons, Richard and Kendall, who were on a farm near here, overslept this morning for the first time in years and it probably saved their lives. At 5:10 a. m., a windstorm demolished their barn, and because they overslept, they were not in it at their usual time of 4:30 a. m.

The Canadian Press said at 9:30 p. m. (EST) that nine bodies already had been taken to the Windsor morgue and that many other bodies had been carried away by the wind.

On the American side, the River Rouge community, many of whose residents work in the huge Ford plant, was sorely beset. The Fisher housing project bore a considerable brunt of the storm as police reported at least 10 dwellings leveled.

Detroit's hospital facilities were taxed to the utmost as all available doctors, nurses and ambulances were pressed into service while extra crews of police and firemen were called in to duty.

Weather bureau officials said the tornado was reported by an observer shortly after 6 p. m. (EST) and that it directed its fury on the American side before heading for Sandwich. It then disappeared.

The huge waterspouts on the Detroit river were indication of a "terrific" disturbance.

Many heart-breaking scenes were reenacted on both sides of the river as survivors went to hospitals in search of members of their families.

Chief of police Tom Vereldeen of River Rouge said three persons were killed and more than 50 were in hospitals.

Watches House Go

Eyewitness reports heightened fears that the death toll may reach several score.

The wing of a plane identified as part of an American army bomber fell on a house on George avenue in Windsor in the height of the storm. No other trace of the craft was reported.

Mrs. Albert R. Perry of Windsor said at least seven persons were killed a short distance from her home.

The seven, she said, were living in a house across the street from her.

"We saw the house lifted from its foundation," she told a Canadian press reporter.

"It just came rolling, and rolling, and rolling along. I saw the house go up in the air and I saw the bodies being carried away by the wind. I don't know what became of them."

Windsor police said at least 15 bodies had been recovered and many others probably were hidden in the wreckage. One police officer said he had received a report that 36 were killed. Property damage, he said, would run into millions of dollars.

Gas Mains Burn

Acting Michigan State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard dispatched 30 state troopers to the scene immediately and after conferring with Governor Harry F. Kelly announced that 70 others were being rushed to the scene from other posts throughout the State.

Leonard estimated 100 persons had been hurt on the American side and said the wrecked power lines created a hazard to wide spread areas. Some gas mains caught fire. Trees were uprooted and power lines knocked down.

Ambulances were called in from Detroit and other neighboring cities as the injured list began to grow.

A general fire alarm was sent out in the area.

The United States weather bureau in Detroit said the storm struck River Rouge shortly after 6 p. m., swept across the Detroit river into Sandwich in an east southeasterly direction and spent itself in Canada.

An Airline pilot spotted the tornado about two miles south of the Ambassador bridge, connecting Detroit and Windsor, Ont., the weather bureau said. The pilot said he noticed waterspouts on the river, a phenomena the weather bureau said occurs "only once in a lifetime" and indicates a "terrific" disturbance.

Four apartment buildings in River Rouge, a community of 17,000, were left a shambles, police reported, and two units of the Fisher homes housing project were flattened. A number of residents of the project were brought to receiving hospital here.

The Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co., one of the largest automobile factories in the nation, was spared from the tornado's path.

BY KEN GREGORY

Windsor, Ont., June 17 (AP)—Death rode out of the skies today to strike a bewildered populace in this southwestern Canadian border.

Homes were leveled. Stores were wrecked. Lights went out and telephone lines snapped. Windsor gave all appearances of a ghost city.

I drove through the streets of Windsor, to its hospitals and to its police station and newspaper. It was dark, raining and flashes of lightning sparked the skies.

In the darkness the grim task of caring for the injured, searching for the missing and dead and looking out for the homeless went forward.

Frame Church Gone

There was no quick way of telling exactly how many were killed. The earliest count said 15 to 20 were dead in the outskirts farmlands of Windsor and three were known dead in River Rouge, that small southern Michigan town nearby the big Ford Rouge plant.

Driving from spot to spot to find out what one could, we stopped at several hospitals. There we were told they had numbers varying from a dozen to three dozen or more. No one seemed to know the exact count.

It was first thought River Rouge bore the brunt. We drove there first. A housing project was flattened in one spot. Downtown, a frame church was flattened. And there were a half dozen stores on the main street that fell under the impact of the wind. People moved about trying to save their bedclothes and belongings.

Then came word that this southern Canadian city of some 25,000 in the province of Ontario had been hit hard. We swung immediately over here across the Ambassador bridge. The city could not be seen. It was in total darkness. The rain came down in torrents and streaks of lightning flashed across the sky followed by deafening rumbles of thunder.

First For Windsor

On the way to the center of Windsor and the Windsor Star, a daily newspaper, we stopped at Grace Hospital. A nurse told us quickly that they had 26 there and some were dying. She didn't have time to say more.

A police sergeant told us he saw the thick black funnel forming and after swirling briefly in one direction seem to fan out and form a circle just outside the city. It was in the outskirts of Windsor where death fell victim to the violent winds.

All communications in this city were felled. The story was being assembled in the Windsor Star office by candlelight and I drove back to Detroit through the Detroit River tunnel with some of the earlier reports.

Within the memory of Windsor's oldest residents, it was the first tornado that ever visited the city. After cutting across the river from River Rouge it cut almost a semi-circle around the city, leveling most everything within a 100-yard path.

Strangely, the storm unloosed its destructive winds only in the outskirts of the border city, moving from Objivay, four miles southwest of here, through Sandwich, around the south suburbs through Tecumseh and back again across the Detroit river towards Michigan.

NINE CHILDREN MISSING

Windsor, Ontario, June 17 (AP)—The wife and nine children of Nelson Jones, Objivay laborer, are dead or missing tonight, part of the toll of a tornado that struck the outskirts of Windsor.

Bodies of Mrs. Jones and one child have been identified. All the other children are missing.

Mrs. Orlo Farnham, wife of a farm implement dealer, who was in her husband's office next door, said she ran out to find the Jones home "completely demolished," and the bodies of Mrs. Jones and one child on the ground. She said she tried to give aid but they were both dead.

A small dog cowered in the remains of the house after the two bodies were removed.

Ida Sisson, 21, who was shopping in Windsor at the time of the storm, returned to the home of her parents in Sandwich West Township where she found their eight room, two story house in ruins.

Besides her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Sisson, four other persons lived with her there.

"I don't know what happened to anyone," she said.

Later Miss Sisson's brother, Vernon, was located in a Windsor hospital with severe cuts about the arms. Other members of the family have not been found.

Joseph L. Weston, United States Navy veteran, was standing in the kitchen of his home at 639 Grand Marais Road when the storm struck.

"I had seen two tornadoes in Japan," Weston said, "and I knew what it was."

"Believe me, I was scared when I saw it coming towards us."

"It ruined the fence around the house next door and left a shambles around the main gas works on Howard Avenue and Grand Marais Road."

"The main part of the wind hit right nearby, taking the roof off a house next door and even lifting some of the furniture right out of the top."

"A neighbor is a bee-keeper, and when the hives were flattened out the bees were going crazy, stinging everybody around."

BULL BRINGS $25,000

Lansing, June 17 (AP)—Top price of $25,000 was paid for an Aberdeen Angus bull at a weekend sale of the Grand River Stock Farms cattle herd near Webberville.

"Blackbird Bardolier" was purchased by Ira Wilson and Sons of Fowlerville. The entire herd—105 head of cattle—was sold by Dr. J. J. Hendren and Dr. O. S. Hendren.

JEWISH GANGS BLOW BRIDGES IN HOLY LAND

trance fought off both attacks against heavy odds. Both assaults, the police said, apparently were for the dual purpose of blowing up the bridge and destroying the guard post which contained a police card file of blacklist names.

The official police statement said that the body of one Jew and portions of the body of another were found near the damaged rail bridge at Azzib, a village which was "attacked by armed Jews dressed in military uniform."

Mines Found

"One part of attackers engaged the police post while another party blew up the bridge," the statement said. "Close to Azzib village itself a number of mines and booby traps were found."

The report said "the road bridge near Metulla and a police post were blown up" later, and a half hour afterward "the TarnsJordan frontier force camp near Safad was attacked with hand grenades and one trooper was injured. The attack was beaten off."

On the road and railway bridges at Wadi Gaza, the report continued, a band of about 30 Jews made an attack in which "bombs were thrown at the railway bridge, but although two pillars were damaged, the bridge itself remained intact." A land mine exploded on the road bridge, rendering it impassable. Four haversacks filled with explosives were found later on the road bridge.

General And Two Lieutenants Die In Wreck Of B-25

Fort Knox, Ky., June 17 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Hugh J. Gaffey, 51, and two army lieutenants died and four other service men suffered injuries in the crash of their B-25 plane at Goodman Field here last night.

The plane overshot the landing strip, moved down trees and plunged over an embankment. The post public relations office reported the B-25 apparently was out of control as it came in for a landing.

Twice the plane reported trouble as it flew here from Fort Benning, Ga., where General Gaffey had attended an infantry conference. The general, who led two famed armored divisions in Europe during World War II, had commanded the armored school here since last Sept. 2 and only last Tuesday had been named post commander.

The others killed were Lt. Allan J. Hoernig of (54 Ellsworth avenue) Trenton, N. J., post signal officer and Lt. Robert A. Peter of Long Island City, N. Y., the plane's pilot.

Of the injured, taken to Fort Knox hospital, only Sgt. Michael E. Devine of (228 Belmont street) Manchester, N. H., was hurt seriously. He was the plane's engineer.

Thorough Search For Thompson Body Is Again Fruitless

Gladstone — Although almost every available craft in Gladstone was volunteered and a large number of yachtsmen and other citizens turned out after Sunday's storm to aid in the search for the body of John E. Thompson, 28-year-old Gladstone veteran who was drowned in Bay de Noc nine days ago, the combined effort was again unsuccessful.

A party of volunteers also searched both shores of the bay.

Monday's efforts were likewise fruitless but state police officers will continue the quest again today and volunteers who wish to report their aid are asked to report to the post. Walter Arntzen and Fred Sensaba of the Pioneer Aviation company at Escanaba reported that their air search late last week also was unproductive.

Dillman Committee Issues Report On Wood Utilization

Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton, chairman of the Forest Products Research Committee of the Michigan Planning Commission, has announced publication of "Wood Utilization Problems and Possibilities in Michigan," a report of the consultants to the committee.

"The Forest Products Research Committee, at whose request this report has been prepared," states Dr. Dillman in the foreword, "was appointed as an advisory committee to the Michigan Planning Commission by Governor Kelly on October 16, 1944, to direct a study and action program made possible by a grant of $25,000 to the Commission by the Little Legislature. This grant was made for the purpose of studying possibilities in the industrial utilization of wood in the state in the light of modern development in wood technology and of future forest conditions, and of making application of the results of the study to assist the forest industry."

The six consultants who produced the study are: S. C. Fontanna, deputy director of the Department of Conservation, who supervised the consultant's work; Professor A. J. ## 4 SCOUT CAMPS THIS SUMMER

Located In Iron, Alger, Marquette, Luce Counties

Plans set in motion last fall are rapidly nearing completion in four Boy Scout camps operated by the Hiawatha Council, Boy Scouts of America.

All of the camps are open to any registered Scout in the peninsula, regardless of which district he lives in. Three camps operate on a 6 day week basis, opening on Sunday afternoon and closing each period on Saturday afternoon. The fourth camp operates on a 7 day week basis, opening and closing on Sunday afternoon.

Low Fees Offered
The council has kept the fees down as low as possible so that camp will be within the reach of every Scout.

Camp Min-Ne-Ya-Ta, located about 12 miles south and west of Ishpeming, completely surrounds Ross Lake, a beautiful sand bottom, spring fed lake which provides excellent swimming and fishing. A new swimming dock has been built at this camp, which will aid immensely in the aquatic program.

In addition, 2 additional log cabins have been completed, providing more space for Scouts. A new gas stove is being installed in the kitchen, as is a new dish-washing arrangement, which will provide more sanitary handling of dishes than has been possible in the past.

This camp operates three periods of six days each, beginning Sunday afternoon, July 7.

Camp Ba-Ta-Wa-Ga-Ma, located in Iron county, about 8 miles southwest of Crystal Falls, is another of the six days each period, beginning Sunday afternoon, June 23.

This camp is located on Indian Lake, which provides excellent swimming, fishing and boating facilities. Considerable work has been done in fixing up cabins and the dining hall at this camp, also including getting glass in all windows of the hall, repairing screens, doors, etc., in the cabins and shower rooms.

Camp Red Buck, located on Red Jack Lake about 12 miles south of Munising, will operate for five periods of six days each, beginning on Sunday, June 30.

A new dining hall and kitchen, much larger than the old one has been moved to Camp Red Buck and will be all set to use by June 30. The old dining hall will be used as a craft shop and recreation building.

With the exception of these two central buildings, this is a tent camp, with both Scouts and leaders living in tents, which are pitched in troop groups.

Camp Lu-Chi-Mac, located on Perch Lake, 25 miles north of Newberry, Mich., is operated for three periods of seven days each, starting Sunday afternoon, July 6.

A new swimming dock is being installed at this camp and will be ready to use the day camp opens.

Leadership And Supervision
The camp directors of all four camps spent a week in a camp training school operated by the National Boy Scout Council, from which experience they procured a lot of new ideas for improving the camp program, activities and operation.

In addition to these four men who are all District Scout executives of the Hiawatha Council, there will be several men on the staff of each camp. Some of these men are returned servicemen who were camp leaders before going in to the armed forces.

In the summer of 1945, more than 1,792,000 pounds of black pepper were imported from India.

Rice water can be saved to starch collars, lace edgings and dainty things.

VISITORS GO SAILING—Delegates to the state convention of Job's Daughters, held in Escanaba the past weekend, enjoyed an afternoon of sailing on Saturday, as guests of some of the Escanaba Yacht club members. Above, a group of the girls are pictured aboard Charles Stoll's two-masted schooner, "Rose of Sharon".

Primary Election Polls Open At 7 This Morning

Polls will open at 7 o'clock this morning in the city and county in the 1946 biennial spring election, in which party candidates will be nominated for state, district and county offices. The polls will close at 8 o'clock tonight.

BROADCAST RETURNS

Starting at 8:30 p. m. tonight or as soon as first returns are received, the Daily Press news room will present them over Station WDBC, Escanaba. Scheduled programs will be interrupted for the special election newscasts, which will provide an accurate total for each candidate as fast as they are received. To facilitate this broadcast service persons are requested to refrain from telephoning the Daily Press office as much as possible, since incoming calls with reports on election returns may be delayed if the lines are busy.

Politically observers have variously predicted a light, medium and heavy vote, depending upon the period in the progress of pre-primary campaigns at which their observations were made. At times there appeared to be considerable interest in the election, and at others only slight voter interest.

In Delta county there are several contests which are expected to bring out the party vote, and in the state the four candidates for governor on the Republican ticket have campaigned with more than usual vigor for a primary election.

Another interesting contest in the district is the three-way race for state senator on the Republican ticket.

Highlighting voting interest among the Democrats is the race for county representative in the state legislature, which two men and one woman seeking the nomination; and the nomination race for sheriff's office by two candidates.

In addition to the two party tickets, the voters will receive a third non-partisan ballot on which they will nominate two candidates for circuit court commissioner in Delta county. The two candidates, both Escanaba attorneys, are unopposed on the ballot.

On each party ballot there is also space for the election of delegates to the Republican and Democratic conventions. There are no announced candidates, but voters may write in the names of candidates of their choice. Each party elects two delegates, who will be seated at the party conventions to be held within the next few weeks.

Polling places in the city of Escanaba are as follows:

Precinct No. 1—Carnegie Public Library; No. 2—Franklin school; No. 3—City hall; No. 4—Jefferson school; No. 5—Junior High school; No. 6—Barr school; No. 7—North Escanaba fire station; No. 8—Senior High school building.

Voters in the townships have been reminded that it is not necessary for them to have re-registered to vote in the primary election today. The deadline for registration has been extended so that all persons registered (old or new registration) may vote today, but they must re-register to vote in the November general election.

Paper Rugs Resist Water, Wear Long

The new rugs can be washed with a damp cloth and are relatively immune to stains from ink, gravy, food and other discoloring agents, according to chemists at

SCOUTS ENJOY DISTRICT CAMP

137 Scouts And Leaders Attend Camporee At Pioneer Trail

Boy Scouts of the Red Buck district held their annual camporee at Pioneer Trail Park Friday and Saturday, with 98 Scouts, 11 Scoutmasters, two Explorer Scouts, one neighborhood commissioner and 25 guests attending.

The camporee opened at 7 o'clock Friday night after all Patrols had registered and made preparations for the evening's camping experiences. Demonstrations on Scoutcraft were held during the early part of the evening, followed by games and a campfire.

Troops participating were Hermansville Troop 478 and Explorer Post 404; Escanaba Troops 455, 454, 407, and 499; Gladstone Troops 456, 466, and 458; Rapid River Troop 465; Nahma Troop 421, and Ford River Troop 408. The Explorer Post of Hermansville, made up of Senior Scouts, assisted in the activities of the camporee, such as tracking, cooking, campfire, and general supervision.

Scoutmasters in attendance were James Gribble of Hermansville, Stanley Johnson, Oscar Nelson, and Robert Johnson of Escanaba; Phil Miron and William Schmit of Ford River; Mason Meyer and Harold Mackie of Gladstone; Robert Mahnor of Rapid River, and James Roddy and Al Hescott of Nahma.

The activities of the camporee give a preview to those in attendance of what is in store for them this summer at Red Buck camp. The activities included compass work, firebuilding, tracking, first aid, rope work, cooking, tent and ground layout, campfire, axmanship, etc.

Awards were made to the patrols participating in the various events, based on score. Patrols obtaining a score of 1350 or better received a blue streamer signifying efficiency. These were earned by troop 478, Eagle Patrol; 454, the Stag and Covered Wagon Patrols; 408, the Wolf Patrol; 421, the Wolf and Panther Patrol; 455, the Flying Eagle; 499, the Greyhound. A score of 1200 or better received a red streamer signifying standard. These were earned by troop 456, Eagle Patrol score of 1000 or better, a green streamer signifying qualifying, was won by the Flying Eagle patrol of troop 499. All patrols obtaining less than 1000 received a white streamer for participating. Troops earning these were 407, the Greyhound, 458 the Flying Eagle and Stag Patrols, 455 the Stag, the Wolf Patrol.

"The morale and sportsmanship of the Scouts and Leaders was outstanding," according to S. N. Bradford. It was felt that all received some real Scouting training in the activities presented. It was also expressed by the leaders that it was one of the best camporees held in Red Buck District for some time.

"The committee of the camporee was assisted throughout by the Scout leaders who were at the camporee.

"If the enthusiasm shown at the recent camporee is any guide, our summer camp at Red Buck should be very successful," the district Scout executive said.

Curb Strip Trees Being Pruned Now By Forester Crews

A six-man crew has begun the annual tree pruning work on curb strip trees on Escanaba's through streets, City Forester Bob Clayton reports. The crew is now engaged at the west end of First Avenue south.

All the curb strip trees on through streets in the city will be pruned this summer and others as well if time permits. These trees were last pruned two years ago when it was impossible to do a thorough job because of the shortage of both time and help. This summer, besides the normal pruning, as much sanitation (clearance of dead branches) and correctional pruning will also be done. As the work proceeds, crews will seek permission from property owners to remove trees so closely crowded together that their continued growth will create hazards to property or retard the normal growth of other trees.

The pruning will provide a ten-foot clearance over both streets and sidewalks.

The city forester's plan calls for school and attended Washington State College.

pruning of about half the trees during alternate summers so that all curb-strip trees are tended every other year.

Vote Today!

WHILE the primary campaign has aroused no large amount of interest, it does not necessarily follow that today's election is not important to the people of Delta county and Michigan.

Today, Michigan voters have their chance to narrow down the field of candidates to those of the highest integrity and ability. If each of the two major parties, Republican and Democratic, present a slate of trustworthy and capable persons for the November election, there will be assurance that the people will be well served by their public servants.

It is altogether possible in a quiet election that the least qualified candidates could be nominated. When a small percentage of the eligible voters go to the polls, the victory could go to the candidates, who performed the most efficient job of political campaigning. But it does not hold true that an adroit politician makes the best public officer.

There is an old political axiom that the people get just the kind of government they deserve. If they do not show enough interest in government to go to the polls on election day, they cannot rightfully complain about the caliber of the candidates who are elected. We have gone through another world war with our democratic rights preserved intact. We can show our appreciation of this fact by exercising our democratic right of suffrage at the polls today.

Need for Reforestation

THE establishment of another wood products industry in Delta county, the Hiawatha Manufacturing company at Wells, once again demonstrates the importance of lumber in the economic life of this area and suggests the need for an adequate reforestation program to assure a constant source of supply of lumber and wood resources.

For decades Upper Peninsula forests produced many millions of board feet of lumber processed in sawmills of this area and shipped elsewhere for manufacture of furniture, building materials, etc. Most of the huge sawmills are gone and the trend now is to utilize more of the local lumber in local industries. A thriving furniture manufacturing industry is developing in this area.

A large portion of land in the Upper Peninsula is suitable for forest growth. Unfortunately, however, little thought was given to reforestation while the great forests were being cut. We have finally come to realize that we must reforest our lands if we are to sustain the industries that offer so much promise for the future development of the region.

That is the fundamental basis for the reforestation program of the U. S. Forest Service and the Michigan Department of Conservation. It is the purpose of the "Trees Forever" promotion of the Escanaba Daily Press. The job of reforestation is so tremendous that it cannot be accomplished by government effort alone. The ultimate goal is to have two seedlings planted for every tree that is felled and brought to market. Only in this way can there be assurance that the lumber heritage of the Upper Peninsula will be extended to generations to come.

Housing and Jobs

HOUSING and suitable employment are the most pressing needs of veterans, but Gen. Omar N. Bradley, speaking at the Kiwanis International convention, declared that most American communities have shrugged off their obligations to the men who served their country in its time of crisis.

Thousands of veterans have become discouraged, Gen. Bradley said, because of lack of housing and low wage jobs. He added that good will is a poor substitute for good works, and he predicted that casual abandonment by communities of their own young men to the limited effectiveness of government will show up in trouble on Main Street.

The problem of the returning veterans was foreseen in Escanaba when the war was half over. Credit must be given to the members of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and the municipal administration for doing everything possible to attract new industries. In this respect, Escanaba went out on the limb more than most communities to induce manufacturers to locate here. These efforts were not in vain, for a half dozen small industries have been launched here since the industrial expansion program was begun.

Our industrial promotion work must continue, of course. But if private employment falls short of veterans' needs, we must get started on the public works projects, which were decided upon after considerable wartime planning. Work on the bathing beach, for instance, might well be accelerated, a move which would meet with general public favor. Every community has public works projects that could be undertaken to provide both employment and long-overdue and much-needed civic improvements.

The Klan Is No Good

STEPS are being taken by the state of Georgia to outlaw the Ku Klux Klan, which recently revived after several years of inactivity.

The Klan was organized in Georgia in 1916 under a state charter, which the state now seeks to revoke. Whether it can find legal grounds for the abolition of the hooded organization remains to be seen, but admittedly the state of Georgia and the rest of the nation would be better off without its kleagles and konklaves.

The hooded klansmen had their origin in the Reconstruction days that followed the Civil war in the South. After a brief flurry of night riding and the terrifying of Negroes, the organization went into oblivion, only to revive about a quarter century ago. During that revival it had the nation in an uproar for a brief spell with its un-American attacks upon Jews, Negroes and Catholics. Eventually, various Klan leaders, like D. C. Stephenson of Indiana and others, got themselves into disrepute, and the Klan died another natural death.

Its rebirth in Georgia recently was marked by the usual cross-burnings, and it was not long before the flogging of a Negro worker had all the earmarks of Klan activity. The Klan has a notorious record for intolerance and trouble-making. The thanks of the entire nation should go to the state officials of Georgia if they find some way to put this nefarious, secret organization out of existence forever.

Improvement Seen

ROBERT GOODWIN, director of the REUSES, presented the nation with a somewhat different slant Sunday with the announcement that the peak of postwar unemployment had been passed and that improvement in the job situation can be expected from now on.

Despite the wave of strikes that swept the country in the first five months of the year, unemployment never approached the estimates made last fall and in April and May more veterans were placed in jobs than were discharged from the armed services.

By May of this year, 11,400,000 male veterans had been discharged from service but there are only 2,310,000 unemployed persons in the country, including both veterans and non-veterans.

Now that the wave of strikes has subsided, there is cause to hope that the wheels of industry will spin to the greatest flood of civilian production that the country has ever experienced. This alone is the barrier remaining against the pressure of inflation.

THE SPEEDY AGE (Christian Science Monitor)

We did think civilization had "speeded up" about to the limit for one year when it was announced a couple of days ago that the United States had an airplane engine that would propel its surrounding fuselage through the air at the rate of 1,500 miles per hour.

We felt the same way when the U. S. Army broke the news of its astonishing electronic numerical integrator and computer—the lightning calculator that in 20 minutes works out problems that used to take a good smart mathematician something like two weeks to solve.

We even felt a little the same the first time we heard of the invention of an automatic sink that washes and dries the dishes and then grinds up the garbage.

Now, however, we really are out of adjectives. It seems there's a woman artist in Adelaide, South Australia, who can not only paint with both hands at once, but upside down. She turns out a creditable 24-by-30-inch landscape in five minutes.

If this sort of thing goes on, who can predict where we shall end up—or which end up?

WORDS TO WATCH

In the West, a dog is a motherless calf, or one which, on the range, has been separated from its mother. The word has long been used in the "cow country," but Americans elsewhere heard it first about a dozen years ago when the song, "The Last Roundup," became popular: "Git along, little doggie, git along." The origin is unknown. But the word does not derive from "dog," nor should it be pronounced "doggie," as Quizmaster Bob Hawk gave it on a recent program. Doggie rhymes with "dodge, bogey." The "o" is long as in "foe."

A mulatto is a person of half white, half negro blood. The word is from the Spanish mulo, from the Latin mulus, "a hybrid." The mule is so called because it is a half-breed between the horse and the donkey. Mulatto is commonly mispronounced "muh-LAD-uh." The "u" should be long as in music; pronounce the "t" as "t." Say: mew-LAT-oh.

The word jodhpurs, "close-fitting riding breeches," is often pronounced "JOD-fers." The "f" sound is the result of "seeing" the word as if it were spelled "jodhpurs." In the proper spelling, however, the "h" comes before the "p." Jodhpurs are named for the Indian state of Jodhpur, in the Rajputana agency, where the men wear white trousers similar to the popular British and American riding breeches.

The first syllable of jodhpurs rhymes with "code, mode." The second syllable rhymes with "boors, tours." Say: JODE-poorz.

Formerly, the verb harass was considered correct only when accented on the

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Out of the war has come increased concentration of the ownership of industry by a few corporations. Proof of that fact is provided by economists of the senate small business committee who show that two-thirds of all manufacturing facilities are now operated by 250 giant corporations.

The actual percentage increase of concentration during the war was, in itself, not so great. More important is the fact that, thanks to prodigious government spending, the 250 giants today control facilities almost equal to the plants owned and operated before the war by all corporations big and small. That gives the big fellows a tremendous leverage of power now that the war is over.

What is more, the top 100 corporations spent 65 per cent of all the government funds expended on research. What this means in competitive advantage needs no underscoring. The committee report says: "The few big corporations, which received during the war years more money from the federal government for scientific research and development than the entire nation spent on such research in pre-war years, can certainly be expected to apply many of the findings of this scientific research to peace time production. Wartime scientific developments which have no peacetime uses are few and far between."

"Big business, in whose laboratories and plants this government-financed research was conducted, will have not only the 'first crack' at putting into effect the peacetime applications of most of the wartime industrial research but also the patent rights on the commercial applications of that research."

—ADVANTAGE IN ADVERTISING—
Another competitive advantage of the giants—thanks to the way the tax laws were written—was that they could spend millions in war profits on advertising to keep brand names before the public eye. Senate committee researchers found some interesting quotations from a speech made by President Truman when he was a senator denouncing the wilder extravaganzas of war-time advertising.

Of the 250 giant corporations, five interest groups control nearly half of the total manufacturing capacity concentrated in the giant bracket. They are Rockefeller, Morgan, Mellon, Du Pont and the Cleveland group.

There is a lot of fine political talk about helping small business. Some of it is sincere. But the cold facts belie this talk. The trend, accentuated by the war, is all in the direction of concentration.

Some who talk more piously about their concern for small business are working actively and directly against the interests of small business. The OPA is a case in point. While it is true that in some instances small business has suffered under OPA, if congress knocks out the controls that remain, it will be small business that will suffer most.

In an inflationary spiral the giants can survive. They have the vast reserves of capital to carry them through the storm. The senate committee report shows that by the middle of 1945 the 63 largest manufacturing corporations with assets of over $100,000,000 had increased their net working capital to nearly eight and a half billion dollars. That was more than the working capital of all manufacturing corporations in 1939.

—SMALL FELLOWS HIT—
In the boom-to-bust cycle, it is the small corporations that go under. The depression of 1929-32 proved that once and for all. The giants came out of it with more economic power than they held before.

Those who have been most clever and most active in stripping OPA should pay heed to this. Ohio's Senator Taft at times talks nobly about small business and equality of opportunity. But the job he has done on price control will leave small business with few defenses in the economic storms that lie ahead.

One of the great perils of this ever increasing concentration is that government must more and more intervene to try to even the balance. To match the concentrated economic power in the giant corporations, you have concentrated political and economic power in the trade unions. Government has been trying, and not very successfully, to reconcile these powers.

The ultimate end is statism. It is the corporate state in which you have the powers of the corporation and the powers of the union forever frozen. That is the end of free enterprise. Yes, it's the end of freedom.

The Marxist, the Communist, sits back with an air of comfortable assurance. This is the inevitability which he has been predicting for so long. But most Americans will not accept that inevitability. Our system has given freedom of opportunity and we must make sure that it continues to do so. That means enforcement of the anti-trust laws. It means positive action by government along the lines of the Tennessee Valley authority. If we do nothing, the drift toward the age of the economic glacier will continue.

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

LAKE MONSTERS—This is the season of the year when residents of the Lakes states (who should know better) and visitors begin reporting to conservation department officials that they have sighted "sea monsters" in the Great Lakes.

The fish division of the Michigan department of conservation in early summer is advised by letter and telephone call that sea serpents, sea monsters, whales and sharks are disappearing themselves in Lake Huron, Lake Michigan or any of the other fresh-water seas. And the officials of the fish division at Lansing shrug their shoulders and smile for they know that it is only the Great Lakes sturgeon that is causing all of the excitement.

A recent news report describes the officials as "happy to get the reports." Why? Because stripped of their fantasy it simply means that sturgeon, once very close to extinction, are making a comeback in Great Lakes waters.

THEY GROW BIG—Sturgeon grow to enormous size, have a long span of life and are now considered valuable for food—although they are rigidly protected by law.

In 1943 a sturgeon 7 feet 11 inches long and weighing 310 pounds was injured by a boat propeller at the mouth of the St. Joseph river in Lake Michigan. The big fish are known to live more than 80 years, and grow to much larger size than the one taken at St. Joseph a couple years ago.

It is because of their great size that the uninitiated believe they are seeing "monsters" when they happen to view one when the fish are spawning in shallow water in June. There is also the appearance of the fish itself—a carry-over from prehistoric times. Unlike most other fish, the sturgeon has no internal skeleton, but is held together by plates and sheets of bone on the outside. Included in this bony covering are vertical plates along the back, which give it a ridged appearance not unlike the back of a prehistoric monster.

ONE PLENTIFUL—Until white men began fishing the Great Lakes with nets, sturgeon were plentiful. They were an important source of food to the prehistoric American Indian of the Great Lakes area—and the ball of rubber-like cartilage in the nose of the sturgeon was used by Indian children as a ball to play with.

The Indians took the sturgeon in several ways. During the spawning run in June they would club the big fish to death in the shallow water of the rivers. At other places their built weirs extending out into the rivers, and from the top of this they would spear or harpoon the big fish. They would also take them in winter by spearing them through the ice, using a long pole to which a harpoon point made of bone was attached. A long line was fastened to the harpoon point, and the fish would be hauled out after a battle with the "monster."

The flesh of the sturgeon would be smoke-cured on poles over slow fires along the shore, to furnish food for months to come.

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

Washington, D. C.—The stork is finding an increasing welcome in Escanaba, which is not one of the many cities in the United States menaced by race suicide, according to a report just made public by the census bureau.

A son was born Sunday at St. Francis hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bolm, 942 North 18th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shawl, Garden, are the parents of a son, born early Monday morning at St. Francis hospital.

John E. Ferner, 74, well known Manistique pioneer, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Amos Bowman, 223 Elk street, at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning after a long illness.

Dr. C. J. Corcoran was nominated commander of Cloverland Post 82, American Legion, without opposition at the annual nomination meeting at the post last night.

20 Years Ago—1926
An elaborate program was given by students of St. Ann school Monday in St. Joseph's auditorium honoring the Very Rev. Fr. Raymond G. Jacques, pastor of St. Ann church, who will celebrate the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood on July 7.

William Hale Thompson, former mayor of Chicago, who visited here yesterday, gave the town the "once-over" and expressed hearty approval of everything and everyone he saw and announced with enthusiasm that he will return to this part of the country soon.

Gladstone—Mrs. J. D. Staple was elected president of the Child's Welfare club at the election of officers held at the annual meeting Monday night.

A very pretty wedding ceremony was solemnized at Manistique at high noon Wednesday when Miss Hattie E. Rubin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rubin of this city, became the bride of G. Howard Guitman of Grand Rapids, son of Mrs. Helen Guitman of that city.

white men came and began using nets to take the more prized trout and whitefish, they found that the sturgeon would tear the nets in shreds because of his great size and strength. Angered, the fishermen went on a rampage of destruction, netting them out of the lakes as fast as they could, piling them on the shore like cordwood and burning them. From 1890 to 1900 Michigan fishermen took a million pounds of sturgeon annually, and little if any of the tasty steaks or valuable roe (which makes excellent caviar) was eaten.

By 1929 the catch was down to 7,000 pounds and conservationists, becoming alarmed, placed them under protection of the law less they become extinct. Now only Ontario, among all the states bordering the Great Lakes, permits the taking of sturgeon.

STURGEON WAR—Before the white men made war on the sturgeon, the Indian made war on each other—because of the sturgeon. The so-called sturgeon war started on the Menominee river, and ended in tragedy at Death's Door, Washington Island. The Menominee Indians had closed off the mouth of the river so the spawning sturgeon could not go up the Menominee. Further upriver the Chippewas faced famine as a result. The Chippewa chief sent his son to intercede with the Menominee and have them open the river, but he was treated with indignity.

The war followed and the Menominee fled across the bay in

Q. Please advise me whether stars have been authorized for the Victory ribbon (World War II).

A. No stars have been authorized for the Victory ribbon; consequently it is improper to wear stars on the decoration.

Q. What is the definition of "Active Service Time?"

A. It means the time a serviceman entered upon active duty at a post, station or command and entered on full Army pay status. It does not mean any time he was under liability to serve, but they did not enter upon service until inducted and ordered to report for active duty time counts.

Q. I've often heard the expression "they talked shop." What does it mean?

A. It means that the persons were engaged in a social conversation that was confined to details about their own business, craft or profession.

Q. I do not have space in my living room for my bookcase, but in my dining room I have more than enough space for it. Will the bookcase look out of place in the dining room?

A. While bookcases are usually put in the living room or in the library, there is no reason why you shouldn't put the bookcase in the dining room. Perhaps you can utilize the space under and between the windows in your living room for built-in book shelves to take the place of the ready built bookcase.

Q. In which American city did the Continental Congress meet for only one day?

DON'T BE ALARMED—The conservation department reassures those who report they have seen "shark fins" cutting the water on the Great Lakes. It is only the ridged back of the sturgeon.

And that furious commotion occasionally seen in shallow water is only the sturgeon throwing himself about at a rapid rate to shake off parasitic sea lampreys.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Here is the latest report on the inside doings of the Ku Klux Klan.

At a secret meeting of Atlanta Klavern No. 1, on June 3, Grand Dragon Samuel Green spent most of his time denouncing Drew Pearson, Walter Winchell, the Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution. The editor of the latter, Ralph McGill, he referred to as "Rosenwald" McGill.

Grand Dragon Green, despite his high-sounding title, is an obstetrician in private life, and does not look too imposing.

He takes his work most seriously, however, and seemed much agitated over the manner in which the Klan's activities had been uncovered.

In order to counteract the criticism, the Grand Dragon proposed that the various Klaverns solicit contributions to pay for a 30-minute nationwide hook-up over the Atlanta Journal's radio station WSB in order to answer the Klan's critics. To this end he appointed Klansman Guiano as a committee of one to make the necessary arrangements. Green himself offered to put up any money necessary as a binder with the radio station.

He proposed that the title of the radio talk be "Klan Kraft," but that actually it should be devoted to an attack on Pearson, Ralph Jones, a local columnist and the two Atlanta newspapers.

Meanwhile, the Atlanta Journal's campaign to remove Klansmen from the Atlanta police force has definitely got under the Klansmen's skin. Local police chiefs have denied that any Klansmen are on the police force, but the fact remains that 11 police in uniform were present at the June 3 meeting, while pictures taken by Life magazine on Stone Mountain clearly show the faces of other policemen who attended the Klan rally there.

Meanwhile, it looks as if some Klansmen were ducking for cover and that new membership had fallen off. Only seven new members applied at the June 3 meeting, with five new reinstatements. This was in contrast to 200 new applicants at the previous meeting.

Grand Dragon Green has advised that Klansmen lay low and commit no overt acts while the heat is on.

—GOV. ARNALL CRACKS DOWN—

The Klan question has had interesting repercussions on the Georgia gubernatorial race, with ex-Governor Gene Talmadge openly bidding for Klan support and Jimmie Carmichael boldly attacking it. Ex-Governor Ed. Rivers, a former Klansman himself, now running again, has kept a pussy-footed silence.

Courageous Governor Ellis Arnall, however, has left no one in doubt as to where he stands. Jumping in with both feet, Arnall has ordered his attorney general to make a thorough probe, and as a result Dan Duke, live-wire assistant attorney general who went after the Klan in 1940, has been assigned to the job.

Duke knows his Klan onions. In 1946 he ran the hooded order underground, forced them to take off their masks, and finally sent eight of them to jail for flogging and terrorizing 63 citizens in and around Atlanta, two of whom were killed.

Following their conviction, the Klan pulled wires with its friend Governor Gene Talmadge to secure pardons for the eight. But the enlightened editors and ministers of Georgia came to the support of Dan Duke, and Talmadge didn't quite have the nerve.

However, one month after Duke enlisted in the Marine Corps, Talmadge pardoned the Klan floggers.

Today, however, Dan Duke is out of the Marine Corps and back on the job as Georgia's chief Klan-hunter with Governor Arnall backing him 100 per cent.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

Marshal Tito's secret police have arrested several attaches of the American embassy in Yugoslavia for dealing in the black market. Believe it or not, but the state department had advised embassy employees to convert their American money at black-market rates rather than at the official rate, thus violating the law and thus giving Marshal Tito another opportunity to embarrass the USA . . . Soviet Commissar Vyshinsky has refused to drop charges against the clerk in the American Embassy in Moscow whom he charges with "Holligan Acts." Vyshinsky told Ambassador "Beetle" Smith that Russia does not claim diplomatic immunity for its lowest clerks and does not expect the American Embassy to claim it either. Smith has recommended that the USA refuse to yield . . . thoughtful British and American observers are worried about the strong rebirth of British fascism. Although comparatively quiet during the war, the followers of hate-peddler Oswald Mosley are becoming more active now. Their rebirth is compared to the Klan's rejuvenation in this country.

YOUTHS ESCAPE SERIOUS HURT

Car Almost Demolished;
Driver Fined For Recklessness

James Randall, 17-year-old Gladstone youth, and five young people from Escanaba and Gladstone who were riding in his automobile, narrowly escaped serious injury about 10:30 o'clock Sunday evening when the 1930 model coach blew a tire as it crossed the C&NW railroad tracks just north of the No. 6 ore dock, and rolled over several times, tearing the top from the machine and otherwise badly damaging it.

None of the occupants of the coach received more than minor scratches and bruises. The passengers were Poick Johnson, 15, of 1311 Delta avenue, Gladstone; Phyllis Balthazore, 16, 605 South Tenth street, city; Barbara Garvey, 16, 1402 First avenue north; Margaret Schrader, 15, Escanaba; Lucette Allsworth, 17, 1112 Seventh avenue south.

Randall was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace Werner A. Olson on a charge of reckless driving Monday.

Police said the damaged vehicle was abandoned by the youths and that the accident was not reported but one of the passengers said that Randall intended to report to police officers after arranging to take the car to his home in Gladstone.

Two Others Fined
George Hallfrisch, 25, and Jesse Duncan, 23, First avenue north and Eighth street, each pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor and each were fined $50 and costs by Justice of the Peace Henry Ranguette Monday. Local police officers arrested the pair early Saturday evening in the 800 block of First avenue north when Duncan was towing a truck driven by Hallfrisch.

In another accident about 10:30 o'clock Sunday night, a car driven by William Bradley, Cornell Rt. 1, was slightly damaged and caused minor damage to a parked car in the 300 block of Stephenson avenue as Bradley tried to avoid striking an intoxicated man who was crossing the street. The front bumper, radiator and a fender on the Bradley machine was damaged. Damage to the parked car, owned by Charles Bonamer, 327 Stephenson avenue, was to the trunk and a fender.

Police arrested Peter Ban of Osier for being drunk and disorderly and he was fined $10 and costs Monday by Justice Werner Olson.

Mackinac Island Dispute Subsides

Mackinac Island—A near-fatal chapter has been written here in a delicate situation which involved the Moral Rearmament association, the city of Mackinac Island, the Mackinac Island state park commission, the state conservation department and representatives of former owners of the Island House hotel.

MRA has agreed to pay the state conservation department $2,500 rental for the hotel until the end of the current year and has been assured a use permit covering that period. Thereafter, it appears, the conservation commission plans to deed the property to the island park commission unless original owners should be successful in their efforts to reclaim the property.

The state received the property several years ago for unpaid taxes. The conservation department deeded it to the city of Mackinac Island under public use and benefit provisions, but at that time tourist travel was almost nil. MRA had taken over several other properties on the island and the city, to accommodate a group which was bringing visitors and business to it in time of stress, granted MRA permission to use the hotel, rent free. MRA invested several thousands of dollars in improvements.

Gradually protests sprang up from some wealthy owners of fine private homes on the island. They objected to free use of a state-owned hotel while they went on paying taxes for privilege of using the island. MRA and the Mackinac Island park commission came to loggerheads. With the end of the war and the resumption of civilian travel and resorting, park commission members professed to see a shortage of being accommodations for visitors and the conservation department advised the city of Mackinac Island that it wanted the property deeded to the state. The city complied.

The conservation department, in order that MRA not be handicapped in plans it already had made for the present summer season, suggested a use permit to the end of the year but requested $2,500 rental.

One-Hour Parking Signs Set Up In One Downtown Area

"One-hour parking" signs have been set up by city crews in the half blocks areas between Ludington and the alleys of the 100 blocks, both north and south, between Ninth and 12th streets on Ludington.

Car owners who have been parking their automobiles in these restricted areas all day are reminded that free parking space is now available in the lot at Tenth and Ludington and at the city hall lot.

The theater parking lot at Ninth and Ludington may also be used without charge during the day.

Michigan U. Victory Reunion June 20-22

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 15 (P)—The University of Michigan's Victory Reunion, the first full-scale gathering of alumni since 1941, will bring together here a record-breaking number of 125 classes June 20-22.

The previous peak for an alumni get-together was reached during the university's centennial celebration in 1937 when 106 classes were represented with a turnout of 6,300 former students.

University officials agree that record for total attendance probably will be broken next week.

To commemorate the reunion Dr. Frank E. Robbins, assistant to President Alexander G. Ruthven, has prepared a souvenir booklet detailing the university's role in World War II. The history was written by F. Clever Bald, University War Historian, who also supervised an array of exhibits that will appear in Alumni Memorial Hall, the Michigan League, the Rackham Building, Clements Library, Museum of Archaeology and the University Health Service.

Campus residence halls will house the alumni, and on Friday and Saturday mornings sight-seers will cruise around the town in special buses.

Forestry Division Assumes Control Of 1,250,000 Acres

Lansing—(P)—The State Conservation department's forestry division will assume control July 1, of additional 1,250,000 acres of state land with the consolidation of state game areas and state forests under a single administration, G. S. McIntire, assistant division chief, reported.

At its May meeting the Conservation Commission voted to place the game areas under the forestry division because of overlapping activities of the game and forestry divisions.

Annexation of game lands brings the total area under jurisdiction of the forestry division to more than 3,500,000 acres, McIntire said.

Although the new program puts all forest lands under one agency there will be no change in policy, he declared. The forestry division will continue its timber program and will administer the area but the game division will conduct its game management activities as before, he said.

The measure, which now goes to the house, is designed to facilitate the admission into the United States of fiancées or fiancés of members of the armed forces.

VALUE OF 4-H PROGRAM TOLD

Escanaba Rotarians Hear
Ben Westrate, Delta
4-H Club Agent

About two million farm boys and girls in the United States between the ages of 10 and 20 are members of 4-H Clubs, a program in which they participate for the valuable experience in project work and recreation. Ben Westrate, Delta county 4-H club agent, told the Escanaba Rotary club yesterday noon at its meeting in the Delta hotel.

The 4-H Club program, established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and administered through the extension service in each state, also receives the co-operation and encouragement of many private industries and organizations, Westrate said. At the state level the program is directed by Michigan State College in Lansing, and at the county level is administered through the office of the county agricultural agent. There are about 60,000 4-H members in Michigan.

Westrate pointed out that most of the success of the program depends upon the cooperation of parents in the rural communities, many of whom serve as leaders or otherwise encourage club activities. The boys and girls organize their own club, elect officers, and sponsor social and recreation events as well as take part in project work such as calf clubs, poultry clubs, handicraft, home-making, food preparation and other projects.

Each summer outstanding members from each county attend one of three 4-H camps in Michigan. One camp is located at East Lansing, another at Gaylord, and the third is at Chatham. Delta county has a quota of about 30 members who will attend Camp Shaw at Chatham this summer, Westrate said.

A 4-H member himself for 10 years and a leader for three years, Westrate was raised on a farm near Grand Rapids, graduated from Michigan State College in 1940. He served with the U. S. Navy in the South and Central Pacific for two years, and following his discharge was employed as 4-H Club agent in Delta county.

Address By Strom Highlights Banquet Of SF of A Monday

Highlighting the banquet given last evening at the Sherman hotel by the Scandinavian Fraternity of America was the address of Atty. Wheaton Strom, who spoke to over 50 delegates of the fraternity from Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula in a meeting at the North Star Lodge. The banquet climaxed the first days' activities and was also a celebration commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of Morning Star Lodge No. 2.

Atty. Strom stressed, in his address, the enrichment of American life by the foreign born. Adding that the valuable traits mentioned might be found within any racial group, he especially commended the Scandinavian immigrant for his industry, pointing out that he set an example of hard work. He touched upon the pride of the immigrant who wants to learn the English language and earn a decent living, the Americanism of the Scandinavian who exercises his voting privileges, his strong Christian faith and his craftsmanship.

The audience was then asked to judge the first and second American born generations, deciding how well the traits already stressed had been maintained. Atty. Strom said that if it was felt that these generations were wanting, the reason might lie in the failure of the immigrant generation to educate its progeny properly. He called upon the fraternity to take the lead in teaching an example so that it might perpetuate the qualities of good American citizenship among the Scandinavians.

Also on last evening's program were a violin solo by Roy Pearson, a recitation by Mrs. Arnold Johnson, a vocal solo and piano selection by Amelia Rehnquist, a recitation by Harold Sundelius, song selections by Mary Helen Roberts, Dorothy LaChapelle and Betty LaChapelle, and community singing.

Earlier in the day the officers spoke to the delegates and the various committees submitted reports. Prominent on tomorrow's

Well-Known Army
Chaplain To Be At Fortune Lake Camp

Plans for the annual summer conference for the young people of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, to be held at Fortune Lake, June 23 to 29, inclusive, have been completed, Bishop Herman R. Page said today.

Heading the list of those who will give courses at the conference is Rev. John J. Weaver of Troy, Ohio, whom many persons in the Upper Peninsula heard broadcast from St. Paul's Cathedral, London, and from Westminster Abbey, at the time of the Service of Victory following V-J Day.

As an Army chaplain, Rev. Weaver experienced more than 1,000 air raids in London while serving as official broadcaster for the Armed Forces' Church of the Air. In recognition of his outstanding service, the British government bestowed upon him its highest award for non-combatant duty, while the U. S. Army awarded him both the Silver Star and the Legion of Merit. At the commencement of the present Archbishop of Canterbury, Rev. Weaver served as attending chaplain.

Mrs. Emma Drush,
Pioneer Resident,
Is 80 Years Old

MRS. EMMA DRUSH

Celebrating her 80th birthday anniversary today is Mrs. Emma Flath Drush, 1219 Ninth Avenue south, who has been a resident of Escanaba for over 70 years. She plans to observe the day quietly with her family.

Mrs. Drush, who was born in Milwaukee June 18, 1866, came to Escanaba with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Blittner, in April, 1876. In 1884 she married Julius Flath, who died in 1906. They had four children: Alina, Julius A., and Herbert of Escanaba, and Mrs. Emma Hanson of Minneapolis.

In 1921, Mrs. Drush married James P. Drush. Since his death in 1933, his widow now lives alone. Mrs. Drush, in good health and very active, enjoys her family, her church work, and having company. In addition to her four children, she has eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mrs. Drush has been an active member of the Salem Lutheran church since 1889.

Recalls Early Scenes

When Mrs. Drush came to Escanaba, it was but a village. The business section consisted of two blocks near the Merchants' Dock; the rest of Ludington street was covered with cedar trees and a few private homes. There were only two churches, the Presbyterian and St. Joseph's. Mrs. Drush remembers that a large part of the congregation was Indians, who crowded together on the floors of the balconies. Missionary preachers came at three month intervals for other churches.

As one of the first nurses here, from 1906 to 1923, Mrs. Drush remembers the early epidemics, people, and doctors. Two of those for whom she worked, Dr. Arthur Carlton and Dr. A. S. Kitchin, are still practicing. She used to peddle to work on a bicycle in all weather, but loved it.

Mrs. Drush, who enjoys life, says she "would like to stay a little longer."

GRADUATE NURSE — Miss Mary Lucille L'Heureux

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L'Heureux, 611 South 15th street, received her diploma in nursing at the commencement exercises held at Loyola University, Chicago, last Wednesday.

His Eminence, Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Archbishop of Chicago, delivered the commencement address, and degrees were awarded by the Rev. James T. Hussey, president of the University.

Miss L'Heureux, who attended Loyola University for three years, has been taking a special course at the veterans' hospital in Topeka, Kansas for the past 6 months, and returned to Topeka by plane after receiving her degree. Mr. and Mrs. L'Heureux and their son, James, attended the commencement exercises.

Wed In Alaska

At a wedding which took place at Anchorage, Alaska, on June 2, Miss Janet Mae Nordbye of that city became the bride of S. Sgt. Kenneth E. Oliver, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, 316 First Avenue south.

Evergreens and pink and white roses decorated the church for the evening candle-light service, at which Elder Bartholomew officiated. Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Bartholomew sang "Because," and "The Sweetest Story."

The bride wore a floor length white gown. Her long veil was fastened with clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor, Jean Emery, wore a pink gown and carried pink roses. John Ball was best man.

Sgt. Oliver and his bride are residing in Fairbanks, where he is serving in the medical corps at the 260th station hospital as pharmacist and postmaster. He expects to receive his discharge about Sept. 1 at which time the couple will return to the United States and Sgt. Oliver will resume his education.

Molly McNally And
Paul Guertin Are Married At Garden

Garden, Mich. — St. John's church at Garden was the scene of a June wedding on Wednesday which united in marriage Miss Molly McNally, daughter of Mrs. Katherine McNally of Garden, and Paul Guertin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Guertin, Sr., of Garden.

Apple blossoms, white lilacs and bridal wreath decorated the altar of the church, where the couple exchanged vows before the Rev. Fr. Wilfred Pelletier. Music of the mass was sung by the St. John's choir, directed by Mrs. William Swaer. Earl Cousineau, cousin of the bride, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria," and "Oh, Sacred Heart."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Harry Greene, wore a lovely gown of white corded nylon, styled with a shirred bodice, sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves, the skirt extending in a train. Her fingertip veil was gathered in a coronet, and she wore a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Red roses and white snapdragons formed her colonial bouquet.

Miss Pauline Guertin, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid. Her gown was of light blue sheer, trimmed with lace, and she wore a matching shoulder-length veil. Yellow and pink snapdragons formed her colonial bouquet.

Walter McNally, brother of the bride, was the best man.

For the wedding, Mrs. McNally wore a light blue flowered dress with navy accessories, and Mrs. Guertin wore fuchsia with black accessories. Both mothers wore harmonizing corsages.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party at the Garden restaurant. Later in the day, a reception and dinner were held at St. John's hall, which was decorated attractively with white lilacs, bridal wreath, and pastel spring flowers. The bride cut the three-tiered wedding cake at the dinner, which was attended by 40 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Guertin, both graduates of the Garden high school, will make their home in Garden, where the bridegroom is employed.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Nelson, Thompson; Mrs. Ed. Schlinger and son, Edward, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cousineau and son, Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Safak, and daughter Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hebert and son, Dale, all of Nahna.

Tipping Abolition
To Boom Courtesy

By RUTH MILLETT

"No tipping in our dining cars," says one railroad—which assures travelers that the company will make up the difference in money to the waiters.

If other railroads, and hotels, restaurants, and night clubs even, actually follow suit, the result should be better manners on the part of the public and those who serve it.

The would-be big shot, whether man or woman, now feels perfectly justified in treating serving people in upstage, high-handed manner. After all, he is going to tip plenty. Let the waiter or waitress earn it.

Then there are the tight-fisted people who say they don't believe in tipping, and who are willing to let the person whose wages are calculated on the basis of expected tips suffer for their "principles."

As for the manners of those who serve, an unknown diner in a restaurant can go without service if there is a known heavy tipper to take care of. And all women find it hard to get good service in public places, because women as a group are known as poor tipsters.

So if we ever manage to get rid of the tipping custom, we may find that good manners will have a better chance.

The "big shot" won't dare be rude or demanding if he can't make up for his behavior with a large tip. The timid, shabbily dressed diner-out will get as much service as will the woman in a miniskirt.

And smiles and courteous expressions of gratitude should replace the tip, with pleasant patrons getting the best service and pleasant workers finding customers equally agreeable and understanding.

To mince foods, chop finely. Often meats to be used for sandwiches spreads taste better when minced.

DOWN WITH A CRASH—came old Chicago and Northwestern ore dock No. 5 on the morning of June 17, 1909. Above is a view of the wreckage taken later the same day. Across the wreckage of dock and ore cars may be seen the tie hoist and the outer end of the St. Paul docks. The dock collapsed under the weight of a train of 28 loaded ore cars which had been run up on the dock because the yards were crowded. Because the dock was not being used at the time for loading boats, there were no workmen on the dock and no one was injured.

C&NW No. 5 Ore Dock Collapsed In Crash Heard For Mile 37 Years Ago

A reminder of exciting days in Escanaba's past is a time-darkened picture of the wreckage of the ore dock that Ferdinand Schleissinger built here as the terminus of his Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Western railroad. The dock collapsed suddenly on the morning of June 17, 1909, carrying down 28 cars loaded with ore in a crash that was reported to have been heard for over a mile.

The print was found recently by Oscar Finman, 1211 North 16th street, a retired former Chicago and North Western employee. At the time of the dock collapse Mr. Finman was working near the re-ports of the tie plant a short distance north of the dock site. He recalls hearing the crash and with other workers rushing to the shore in time to see the dust clearing away.

Close For Watchman

Luckily there was no one on the dock at the time of the collapse, although a watchman who was making his rounds just before the dock fell had a narrow escape. The watchman, whose name seems to be lost in the past, felt the sinking of the timbers beneath his feet and started to run for the shore end of the structure. He had just passed the end of the last of the string of standing ore cars when the crash came.

The dock was carried down from a point almost directly above the shore line out to the pockets, a distance of approximately 700 feet. The cars standing on the dock were carried directly downward and came to rest on the dock wreckage just above the water line.

Later investigation by railroad officials indicated that the collapse followed the giving way of one of the upper plates, midway of the wrecked portion. As that part of the dock sank the structure in both directions was carried down for the entire distance occupied by the loaded ore cars.

The dock had not been used in that year, in fact, it had been but little used for several years previously.

However, the other docks were in use and on the previous night the yards were full of cars and a train of 28 loaded cars of ore was pushed up on the dock for storage, and were allowed to stand on the approach trestle leading up to the pockets.

Rebuilt In Fall

A couple of days after the crash the work of clearing up the wreckage was started. A temporary track was constructed over the piling caps of the demolished dock running alongside of the ore cars which were carried down. The ore was transferred from the wrecked cars to cars on the temporary track, then the wrecked cars were removed and the debris cleared away.

In the fall, after the ore shipping season, the work of rebuilding the dock was started.

At the time of its collapse old No. 5 dock was one of the oldest on the Escanaba waterfront. It had been constructed about 20 years earlier by Ferdinand Schleissinger and was sold to the North Western soon after it was completed at the time that the North Western bought the "Schleissinger" railroad.

Rev. Ward Reports On Kiwanis Meeting

An interesting report on the Kiwanis International convention in Atlantic City was given by Rev. James G. Ward at the meeting of the Escanaba Kiwanis club yesterday noon.

At yesterday's meeting the Kiwanis pledged support to the Emergency Food Collection by eating a famine meal at some future meeting. The difference in cost will be donated to the food collection campaign. Miss Patsy Ammel entertained the Kiwanians with three vocal numbers.

Reverend Ward described Atlantic City as a city of 60,000 which during the resort and convention season attracts almost fifty million visitors annually. Atlantic City has 1,000 conventions booked for this year. The city has 260 hotels, a convention hall with a capacity of 70,000 persons, and a boardwalk six and a half miles long. It is rated as the third largest resort center in the country, he said.

Rev. Ward reviewed briefly the address given by Dr. Ralph Sockman, Gov. Harold Stassen, Gen. Omar Bradley, Drew Pearson, Sec. Clinton P. Anderson and other speakers at the convention.

STATE AIRPORT FUNDS DELAYED

$5,000 Appropriation To Escanaba Is Withheld Until November

An appropriation of $5,000 for the improvement of the Escanaba airport will be delayed until after the Nov. 5 election when the voters will decide whether such appropriations are legal, it has been announced in Lansing by Col. Floyd Evans, state aeronautics director.

The commission has voted to discontinue court action to permit the release of its $1,000,000 airport construction fund before the November election. Earlier the commission had voted to institute mandamus proceedings after an attorney general's opinion declared the constitution prohibited the release of state funds for airport construction or improvement.

Col. Evans said the department would continue to prepare plans and specifications for new airports. He added that the commission decided to delay court action because there would not be enough time gained to warrant it, in view of the fact that question will be submitted to the voters in November.

The commission approved the release of $30,000 from the $1,000,000 fund for Upper Peninsula airport development with the provisions that it will not be released until the issue is decided in November.

The appropriation included: Escanaba $5,000; Marquette county $7,500; Iron Mountain $5,000; Houghton $7,500; Sault Ste. Marie $5,000.

In Escanaba yesterday city officials were unable to say definitely whether the appropriation was made for the improvement of the existing city airport, or for construction work on the proposed new airport. It is believed it was appropriated to improve present facilities, since Col. Evans a few weeks ago made an inspection of the field and said that he would recommend continued work there because it may be several years before the proposed new airport could be made ready for use.

Wilkins Says Assessors "Juggled" Valuations In Several Townships

E. T. Wilkins, who directed the reappraisal of taxable property in the 14 townships of Delta county for the J. M. Clemishaw company of Cleveland under its contract with the county board of supervisors, recently reported that supervisors in several of the townships have "juggled" valuations before reporting the appraisal figures to the township boards of review.

Wilkins left for Putnam, Conn., after being in the county during the period when boards of review were in session. It is a part of the Clemishaw company's policy to have representatives at boards of review to defend the figures established by its appraisers.

While Wilkins did not designate which township supervisors had materially altered the Clemishaw valuation figures, he said that he stood ready to defend the valuations before the boards of review.

Says Figures Changed

"Bay de Noc township was the only one which approached us for this service," Wilkins said. "We could not defend the figures there because they were not our figures. They had been juggled by the assessor, who put some properties up, and others down. I believe there are other township assessors who have done that also."

An official of the county board who asked that his name not be used said that he expected a "showdown" on property valuations when the board meets in equalization session June 24. Some of the townships have followed the Clemishaw figures so there would be fair distribution of the county tax burden, he said, and indicated that unless other townships came into line there would be an appeal to the state tax commission.

Last year an appeal was taken to the state tax commission and the assessed valuation of real property in the 14 townships was increased by the state from $5,637,310 to $7,257,497 as equalized by the county board. The Clemishaw report shows the total valuation of the 14 townships as $10,446,250.

Comparative Table

The valuations established last year by the state tax commission, and the values reported by the Clemishaw company are as follows:

Township	1945	Clemishaw
Baldwin	$333,471	$674,271
Bark River	608,650	969,115
Bay de Noc	150,475	287,598
Brampton	147,935	335,629
Cornell	494,800	617,954
Ensign	160,875	342,786
Escanaba	575,600	991,048
Fairbanks	220,300	300,861
Ford River	381,275	847,872
Garden	314,400	521,277
Maple Ridge	336,150	642,526
Masonville	326,425	734,516
Nahma	576,164	778,944
Wells	2,112,605	2,400,853

In its study to determine the appraised value of property in the townships, the Clemishaw company reviewed property sale prices totaling $669,854, Wilkins said.

In an explanation of reasons for some of the major increase in valuations for some of the townships, Wilkins said that in Nahma township about two-thirds of the increase came in one tax item. This was on 320 acres owned by the Bay de Noc company, which includes the company's plant and the village at Nahma.

Explain Increases

The increase in Cornell and Baldwin townships was in part due to a change in listing Boney Falls dam. It has been on the tax rolls as personal property, but was changed to the real property column by the Clemishaw company to conform to a ruling of the state tax commission. The dam is part in Cornell, part in Baldwin township. About 50 per cent of the real property increase for the townships was in the dam.

Masonville township, which also received a considerable increase, was "grossly under-assessed," said Wilkins.

In Ford River township the increase was largely in summer cottages and shore property, which had low assessments, Wilkins reported.

Wilkins further explained that in Wells township, in which two hydroelectric dams are located, both are on the rolls as real property as they should be. The seven per cent increase for Wells township is the lowest for any township in the county, and includes new construction at the Escanaba Paper company plant.

Under its separate contract with Gladstone, the Clemishaw company reported a total valuation of $2,930,297 for that city, an increase over last year's figure of $2,369,149 set by the state tax commission. During board of review about two dozen persons appeared to question the new valuations.

In Escanaba it is expected the 1946 valuations will be approximately the same as last year, as placed by the state tax commission.

FIVE FEET*No Damage Is Reported
By Munising Boat Owners

Munising — Local commercial fishermen and pleasure boat enthusiasts had quite a time Sunday keeping up with the tide. Munising harbor experienced a five foot tide from low to high markings rolled in at about 40 minute intervals. It was just seven years ago to the day, June 16, 1939, that the harbor experienced a seven foot tide.

No great damage was done to boat and dock facilities Sunday but the old CCI dock was reported inundated at frequent intervals throughout the day and harbor master Joseph Mayotte was kept busy tying and untying lines which held the boats to the dock.

The receding water left the Sevenson boat, "Silver Star" (commercial fishing tug) high and dry at one time, as was the Trout Bay, Grand Island ferry. The "Clipper" also a commercial fishing tug, owned by Jerome Van Landshoot had the pipe rail pushed into the decking when a tire bumper got caught on a dock crossbar as the tide went out and didn't release as the tide rose.

The fishermen remember seven years ago when they saw the government buoy in the channel lifted high and carried into the bay by the force of the tide.

The water level Monday afternoon was about six inches higher than normal according to the fishermen out there was no sign the tide was still inaction.

The sentence also drew a 30 day term in jail if the fine was not paid. Friends of Buckler paid the fine for him.

Chief Chase pointed out that too many complaints are being received of cars going at excessive speeds through the city and running stop signs. These practices must stop, he said.

VETS BONUS IS ELECTION ISSUE*Gubernatorial Races In Michigan And Maine
Highlight Card

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, June 15.—(AP)—Gubernatorial and U. S. House candidacies will attract more than statewide attention in primaries this coming week—with the soldiers' bonus a big issue in Maine.

Unlike the past week, when three U. S. senators were challenged for renomination, voters will renominate three widely known colleagues—Vandenberg, Brewster and Walsh—without opposition.

The men who will oppose these three legislators in the elections also will win nomination without challenge.

James H. Lee, former Detroit corporation counsel, is the lone candidate for the democratic senate candidate for the democratic senate has CIO endorsement. Vandenberg's friends are counting on his newly won prestige in the field of foreign relations to carry him to easy victory.

Race for Governor

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., 44 next month, who left a senate seat to serve in the army, is unopposed for the republican nomination for the senate in Massachusetts. His November opponent, Walsh, is now in his 74th year and has held a senate seat continuously since 1918. The forecasters are having a hard time figuring this one out.

Unopposed for the democratic senatorial nomination in Maine is Peter M. MacDonald, 58, who recently retired as his party's state chairman. He unsuccessfully sought a congressional seat in 1940. Unworried Brewster supporters insist Maine is still as staunchly republican as the deep south is democratic.

The gubernatorial races in Maine and Michigan and scattered House contests are the chief drawing cards next week. Maine has its primaries Monday, Massachusetts and Michigan Tuesday. North Carolina holds a democratic run-off for Congress Saturday.

A House contest which will be of interest to national politicians is the effort of Emil Hurja, former democratic party official, to win a republican nomination in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, where he was born.

Michigan Primary
Sole contest of importance in Michigan is the republican race for the governorship nomination. The four-man primary race is between Lieut. Gov. Vernon J. Brown, 72, veteran office-holder and close associate of Gov. Harry F. Kelly, who is retiring from politics; Kim Sigler, former special prosecutor of the Lansing one-man grand jury which convicted 41 legislators, former legislators and lobbyists for conspiring to influence legislation by bribery; Raymond J. Kelly, of Detroit, former National commander of the American Legion, and Mayor Edward J. Jeffries of Detroit.

Hurja, political seer, former publisher of the Pathfinder magazine and executive director of the Democratic National Committee under James A. Farley in the first Roosevelt term, has a whole string of opponents for the republican House nomination in the 12th district. One of them is former Rep. John Bennett. Hurja fell out with the democrats midway in the New Deal.

Rep. Frank E. Hook is the democratic incumbent from that district, where tempers have been hot as a result of a long iron mine strike. Hook is unopposed in his party's primary.

Called—Session To Be Brief

A summer term of Schoolcraft County Circuit Court is scheduled to convene Wednesday morning with the Hon. Herbert W. Runnels, circuit judge, presiding.

No list of jurors has been drawn as there are no cases requiring their services on the docket and but one criminal case, the People vs. Richard Lehman, who was arraigned last January and his case continued from the spring term of court. No other criminal cases have been docketed although attorneys for Lena Anthony, found guilty in justice court for violation of a city ordinance, have served notice that they are carrying the case to circuit court. Whether it would be presented at this time, they did not state.

Other non-jury cases listed are Sherman F. Dewey vs. Herman Swanson and John Swanson, doing business as the Swanson Trucking company in an assumpsit action; Lena Anthony vs. Elmer Anderson, false arrest; Petition of William H. Byard discharge Mortgage; and two chancery cases.

The session is not expected to require more than a day.

LIGHT VOTE
EXPECTED HEREBut One Local Contest
In Today's Primary Election

Prospects of an average primary election vote, which is considerably lighter than that of the general election are indicated. At 10 o'clock Monday morning 62 absent voters ballots had been cast, a number far under the general average, but the election machinery is geared to any eventuality and will be in a position to take care of the flood of votes should unlooked for excitement materialize.

Only one local contest is up for consideration. Three candidates seek the Republican nomination for sheriff. They are Howard Hewitt, Edwin W. Gray and Clayton G. Wood. There are two names on the Republican ballot for prosecuting attorney, but James R. Fitzharris made formal announcement Saturday that he has withdrawn, leaving the field entirely to William J. Sheahan, incumbent.

The polls will open at seven o'clock in the morning and close at 8 o'clock in the evening. There will be but one change in the voting places. Voters of the First Ward will vote at Ward's Paint Shop on South Mackinac, instead of the former county infirmary as was the case in the city election and others of the recent past. Voters of the Second Ward will vote as usual in the auditorium of the Lincoln school; of the Third Ward in the City Hall and the Fourth Ward at Lundstrom's garage.

In the rural districts the polling places will be the same as before, according to G. Leslie Bouschor, county clerk.

In the city precincts the following election officers will be in charge:

First Ward—Nora Hanson, Mrs. Vilas Young and Mrs. Ed. Harrington, inspectors; Dorothy Juss and Lillian Curran, clerks; Rocky Chartier, gate keeper.

Second Ward—Mrs. Roy Roberts, Mrs. Ray Besner and Mrs. Andrew Maitland, inspectors; Gladys Downing and Alice Peterson, clerks; Abel Willcock, gate keeper.

Third Ward—Russell Brault, Henry Gauthier and Ian Winn, inspectors; Gertrude Carver and Hildur Nylander, clerks; August Olson, gate keeper.

Fourth Ward—Mrs. L. E. MacDonald, Mrs. Bertha Robertson and Inez Coffey, inspectors; Mrs. Ludd Hough and Chris Drevdahl, clerks; Charles Bretz, gate keeper.

Women veterans are entitled to and receive preferred treatment in local U. S. Employment service offices, says M. G. Heinz, local office manager.

He and his office staff are under instructions to accord women veterans the same services and priority afforded to other veterans, he says and it is their duty to make full utilization of their occupational abilities.

People who are native to this area may be pardoned if they have not noted the fact, but we who have lived most of our life in other parts cannot help but be impressed by the unusual depth of color one finds in the flowers of the Upper Peninsula. Flowers of other areas are not in it in comparison.

Lilacs, for instance, are universally loved and cultivated, but in our experience we have never seen lilacs to be compared with those that are growing so profusely in the Manistique vicinity at this time. And the most beautiful lilac bush we have ever seen is on an abandoned farm near Thompson.

But lilacs are not the only flowers that seem to be favored by local soil, climate or whatever it is that makes them thrive. Indian paint brushes, trilliums, mosses, marigolds, buttercups and violets along Lake Michigan have more vivid coloring or snowy whiteness and are more thrifty than any such "lilies of the fields" that have heretofore come to our attention.

That is also true of spring foliage. The loveliness of the early season is apparent anywhere, but the characteristic color of spring anywhere else is green—a green of many varying shades, but green never-the-less—while in the Upper Peninsula area trees are dressed in as many varied colors as one may see in the fall.

A visitor to the Press office the other day, who we believe is something of a botanist, asserted that she also has been impressed with the vivid coloring of this part of the country. She added that never in her travels has she found a greater variety of wild flowers than what may be found in this particular vicinity.

She was particularly thrilled over a recent find of a patch of blue gentians which she came upon within the city limits of Manistique. These flowers are extremely rare.

She also told us something else which will be good news to conscientious people who refrain from picking flowers for fear of destroying them. She says, pick all the violets you want (that is if you are not encroaching on someone else's domain). Violets, she said, are like sweet peas. The more you pick them, the better they thrive.

One of the things many of our last summer's visitors gloried in was the profusion of daisies growing along the waysides here. One of our visitors even suggested that it wouldn't be a bad idea to play up "Daisy Time in Upper Michigan." That will, of course, sound silly to people who look upon daisies the same way one does upon dandelions, but to people from areas where these innocent flowers are less common, their profusion along the highways as a most enchanting sight.

Will someone please enlighten us as to what species of birds were the other day? They were slightly smaller than robins but a bit more sturdy. On their heads were crests, rounded rather than pointed, they were dark red in color with black tips on their wings and tails. We were thrilled by the sight of them.

The other day while driving along Highway No. 2, just west of the city limits, we saw three large birds flying our way. Two were picking on the leading one and it was going through all sorts of maneuvers in trying to escape their wrath. Finally they came so close that there was no mistaking sea gulls. The "king of birds" was a bald eagle pursued by two sea gulls. The "king of birds" was at a decided disadvantage against its fleet pursuers.

ROVERS NOSE OUT ESCANABA

Negaunee Cops 2-1 Decision From Bears Here Sunday

The Escanaba Bears lost a hard fought NWM league battle to the Negaunee Rovers Sunday, 2 to 1, before an enthusiastic crowd of fans at the city diamond.

The Bears got only four hits off Richards, left Negaunee pitcher, and they failed to get a safe single before the seventh inning. Nevertheless, the Bears were in the thick of the ball game right down to the final out in the ninth inning when they left the tying run stranded on second base.

Negaunee touched Fitzharris, Escanaba southpaw, for 11 safe hits but in general they were well spaced. Fitzharris pulled himself out of trouble several times.

Neither team scored in the first five innings of the fray. Negaunee broke the ice in the sixth on three hits, but missed a chance for three runs, instead of only one, when Mantyla failed to touch first after driving in two runs ahead of him. Mantyla was put out at first base for the final out of the inning and the two runs were nullified.

Maymunch slammed the first Escanaba hit off Richards in the seventh. He stole second and came home on Jungles' sharp single to right field. Jungles also stole second but died on base when Schwalbach fanned for the third out.

Jennings' double and Mel's single scored the second and winning run for Negaunee in the eighth. The Bears had a chance to tie it up in their half of the inning when Gensich, first man up, was hit by Fitzpatrick but Deloria and Pryal flied out to end the inning.

Maymunch singled again with two out in the ninth and stole second base but Jungles' fly to centerfield was snatched for the final out of the game.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Unfavorable weather has plagued the Escanaba Bears on all four of their scheduled home games during the first half of the NWM league season. Their opening game with Channing was rained out on May 5. The following Sunday, May 12, a blanket of snow covered the diamond and a lot of hard work was required before the diamond was put in playable condition. Cold winds prevailed throughout the afternoon. There was no rain or snow to contend with on June 2 when the Iron Kings played here but a chill wind swept the field and spectators huddled in topcoats. A torrent arrived for the Negaunee game Sunday and further draining of the field kept the ground crew busy Sunday morning. The sun broke through just before game time, however.

Crystal Falls Sunday accomplished what no other team in the NWM league has been able to do this season—trim the Niagara Badgers. The C. F. team did it up brown, too, with a 4-0 white wash. Iron Mountain Rangers nipped Iron River, 2-1, while the Iron Kings trounced Channing, 10-3. The Negaunee Rovers nipped Escanaba, 2-1, in the fourth game in the NWM circuit. Hagars' defeat provided encouragement to all other clubs in the league as

CUBS LOSE TO CHATHAM, 6-3

Escanabans Drop Rainbow League Game Sunday

Chatham—the Escanaba Cubs dropped a 6 to 3 decision to Chatham in a Rainbow league baseball game at Chatham Sunday.

Each team scored once in the second inning but Chatham took a 3-1 lead in the fourth. The Cubs tied it up in their half of the fifth but Chatham came back to add two more in the lower half of that frame. Chatham scored the final run in the seventh.

The Cubs were out 6 to 8, by the home team and Leppanen weaved quite a spell over the youngsters in the clinches. He fanned 13.

the second game of the season gets underway next Sunday.

The biggest baseball bargain of the season will be offered here next Sunday. The Escanaba Cubs will play Gladstone in a Rainbow league game at one o'clock and the Escanaba Bears will meet the Channing Railroaders in a NWM league game at three o'clock. The double bill will be offered at regular prices and will provide an opportunity for local fans to see both Escanaba teams in action in one afternoon at a single game price. It is the only double-header baseball program scheduled here this season.

The Bears originally were scheduled to play at Channing Sunday but they have a postponed game with the Railroaders to make up. Channing was unable to come to Escanaba on July 4 due to a prior commitment with the Channing July 4 celebration committee for a home game on that date. Agreement was made to switch the dates, Channing coming to Escanaba on June 33 and the Bears traveling to Channing on Independence Day. Manager John Schwalbach has ordered a big dose of batting practice for his club this week. Impatience at the plate still is the club's big weakness.

Bobby Dufour of the Escanaba Cubs gave Chatham fans quite a thrill Sunday with a perfect pitch from deep in left field to snag a runner attempting to score from third after the catch. The throw was true to the plate and never touched the ground enroute. It was the fielding gem of the afternoon and drew a tremendous ovation from the fans, most of whom, naturally, were Chatham supporters.

MUNISING BOWS TO GLADSTONE

Redskins Cop Lead In Rainbow League Baseball Race

Gladstone, Mich.—The Gladstone Redskins copied first place in the Rainbow league Sunday when they dumped Munising, then the leaders, 5-3, in a thrilling game.

With the score tied 2-2, Gladstone put on a 3-run rally in the sixth frame that brought victory. Sabourin, safe on an error, was forced at second on Pierce's bunt. Rothchild singled and Beauchamp scratched a hit that filled the sacks. Mathison whiffed and Wiltzius doubled to score Pierce and Rothchild. An error on LaBrasseur's grounder allowed Beauchamp to score.

Munising rallied in the ninth but Gladstone was able to nip it after one run had scored. Kincaid doubled, Gattiss singled and Malone got an infield hit to load the bases. Rothchild fielded Davis' smash to the box for a force at second. Kincaid scoring. Dougherty flied out to LaBrasseur in left field who whipped a perfect throw to the plate to catch Gattiss on the end of a double play which ended the game.

Hunting And Fishing

By Sid Gordon

JUST AN OLD FOOL

He was what you youngsters would call an old man. When he walked over to me and quietly remarked that he wanted to fish but did not know how, I was a little surprised that a man of his age had never gone fishing.

I asked him whether he had a casting rod or a fly rod. He said he had neither and couldn't tell one from the other. Then I went into fishing at great length. I told him how he could use a casting rod for trolling, for casting a spoon, plug or weighted fly but he didn't show much interest.

"Do you have to row a boat?" he asked. I told him that he could walk along the shoreline of a lake and cast but that a boat was best. "Too much work," he said. So I went into fly fishing with him.

I explained that he could wade slowly along a stream and fish easily and quietly with a fly rod. I said that it was a tough problem to get a fly rod, the stores had very few and they were sold out as fast as they came in.

"I wouldn't care for fly fishing either, sound like too much work to me," he said. I looked at him with astonishment. I had looked to be a strong, wiry sort of a fellow. "There is only one other way to fish and that is to sit on a dock or the shore of a river and still fish," I said.

"What do you mean by still fishing?" Do you mean sitting perfectly still, dropping a bait in the water and just sitting there until a fish bites?" he asked. When I told him that was a pretty good statement, that still fishing was exactly that, he showed real interest.

"That's what I want to be," he said. "I want to learn about that. I then told him about cane poles, lines, leaders and hooks. I also told him about worms, minnows and the nymphs of the dragon flies for bait.

When I started to talk about the best time of the day to fish, he broke into the conversation. "Never mind about that, I know the best time of the day for me," he said. I asked him what time he thought best.

He said, "I'm just an old fool. I guess. I've worked hard all my life. I can't remember when I haven't gotten up at sunup or long."

Coach George Halas announced tonight, Karwales, who served nearly four years in the Army Air Forces, played with the Third Air Force eleven in 1944.

By winning the title by a one stroke triumph over Nelson and Ghezzi before a gallery of 4,000 which stayed with the trio as it played the last three holes in a drenching downpour and electrical storm, Mangrum moved into the class with Nelson and Ben Hogan insofar as exhibition appearances are concerned.

Nelson and Hogan, the "Mister Bigs" in money winnings and gate appeal, receive approximately $300 for early week-end exhibitions and $500 for weekend appearances. Now Mangrum will receive the same.

Oil Is Reported From Older Wells Using Plastic Plug

St. Louis—Oil wells suffering from the intrusion of natural gas can be returned to normal production with a "plastic plug" that seals the wells, it was reported here today.

Sixty-six marginal or non-productive wells in west Texas have been tested with the "plug" and most of the "dry" wells are now yielding about $1,000 worth of oil each month, the Monsanto Chemical Company here and Oilwell Chemical Service Company, Fort Worth, Texas, announced.

Used for sealing the wells from the unwellcome gas, a resinous phenolic resin has been successfully employed in wells as deep as 11,500 feet. The resin goes into the well as liquid and hardens after it permeates the porous rock through which the gas had been coming, it was explained.

State laws setting the amount of natural gas that can be taken from a well with each barrel of oil make the problem of keeping the gas quantity under control an important economic consideration in operating oil wells. As wells get older, a producer may find that he is getting all the gas allowed with fewer barrels of oil.

The new sealing plastic promises better returns from wells that are plagued by a high ratio of natural gas to oil.

Villanova's Stan Chojnacki, Army veteran from Camden, N. J., is regarded as one of the most promising pitchers in eastern college ranks.

Pointed furs are not as serviceable as natural ones but will withstand good cleaning.

DODGE THEATER BACK IN CHIPS

Ornate Showhouse Gets Play After 20 Years
Of Empty Seats

BY FELIX B. WOLD

Detroit, (AP)—An elegant showhouse built by the famed Dodge family auto millions is coming into its own at last after nearly 20 years of empty seats and an empty stage.

Thanks to the Detroit symphony orchestra and its business man president, Henry H. Reichhold, the former Wilson theater on expansive Madison Avenue is back in the chips.

Once the ornate Wilson made a bid, in 1928, to become the Motor City's No. 1 theater, but almost from the very opening day its fate has been to stand virtually idle.

Lovers of stage glamor say that the Wilson over the years has represented a cultural frustration for Detroit. Right now, however, the Wilson is such a busy place that Manager H. Paul Williams says "we're scrambling for space."

Late in the 1920's Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, widow of fabulous auto pioneer John Dodge, spent $1,250,000 building a lavishly appointed theater in the heart of downtown Detroit. John Dodge himself helped to build modern Detroit.

The Wilson, equipped with "the best money could buy," was to bring Detroit the finest entertainment. Then the blow fell—the depression. Theaters took a beating, and the Wilson never recovered. It had been a "hot and cold" house at best, Williams said.

About a year ago Reichhold, casting about for a home of its own for the symphony, bought the Wilson outright. Now the lights blaze nightly—every night, in fact, since last October. The show house has a new name, too—"Music Hall." Its capacity is slightly under 2,000.

Reichhold, who put the symphony on its feet earlier, brought the big orchestra—fiddle, horn and trumpet—from its rented quarters at Masonic Temple into Music Hall.

In the elaborate plans to make Music Hall as well as the orchestra self-sustaining, the six-story building is occupied from basement to ceiling now. All office space is filled. Rentals, broadcasts and recordings add to Music Hall's income.

Purchase of the theater was a major step in the German-born Reichhold's expressed view to "pay a debt" to America. Reichhold, an industrial engineer, made a fortune in this country. He says he's in debt to "Free America" for that.

When he took over as head of the symphony's management, Reichhold backed the orchestra with a personal guarantee of $160,000. The price paid for the Wilson has not been disclosed.

"He's a man who looks five to ten years ahead, not just into next week," said Williams, a veteran of the theatrical business. "He wants to prove that the symphony can pay for itself."

QUERIES FROM VETS

This series of questions and answers comes from the local Veterans Administration, located in the postoffice building, located in the postoffice building. Veterans may obtain detailed information regarding the problems touched upon here or any other problems relating to veterans' affairs from William Butler or Emil Larson at the administration office.

—Are veterans of World War I eligible for benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill)?

A—No. Its benefits are for World War II veterans only.

Q—Can a VA guaranty be obtained if the loan is to be used by a minor or a person under legal disability?

A—No. However, it may be noted that nearly 30 states have passed laws emancipating minor veterans and their minor spouses with respect to G. I. loan transactions.

Q—Are lenders required to get prior approval from Veterans Administration before a guaranteed loan can be made?

A—If the loan meets all the requirements of the Act and regulations, and is made by a supervised lender, the guarantee is automatic and the answer is no. Other lenders must have prior approval.

Q—Why is it necessary to have the property appraised?

A—The law requires that the purchase price paid or to be paid for property, or the cost of construction, alterations and improvements, must not be more than the reasonable value thereof as determined by proper appraisal made by an appraiser designated by the Veterans Administration. This provision and the appraisal it entails are requirements made by Congress for the protection of the veteran.

Q—When is National Service Life Insurance considered lapsed?

A—It is lapsed when a veteran fails to make a payment of premium within 31 days from the date it was due.

Q—May an uncle or aunt of a soldier be named a beneficiary of National Service Life Insurance?

A—Only if the uncle or aunt stood "in loco parentis" (in place of a parent) for at least one year at any time prior to the insured's entry into active service and was the last person to bear that relationship to the insured.

Escanaban Elected To Missions Board Of Lutheran Synod

George A. Bergman of Escanaba was elected to the home missions board of the Augustana Lutheran Synod of the Lutheran church at the 57th annual meeting held in Duluth last weekend. Malcolm Lund of Chicago, formerly of Escanaba, was elected to the board of the Augustana Book concern.

The delegates approved a 1947 budget of $538,782. The budget continued an upward trend in church budgets as shown in the $460,680 allotment for 1946 and the $472,700 program for 1947, approved a year ago.

The report showed that the per capita contribution of $25.10 represents the highest level in church history and that the $7,000,000 given by the membership over the past 10 years is an increase of 109.57 per cent in church giving over the previous decade.

Gov. Kelly Not Ready For Rocking Chair Yet

Higgins Lake, Mich., (AP)—Harry F. Kelly, who will be the first Michigan governor in over a decade to voluntarily relinquish that office, isn't ready yet for the rocking chair.

Attending the annual meeting of the Associated Press Editorial association, Kelly told reporters for the first time of his plans for the future.

His term doesn't expire until next Jan. 1 and he will continue to further the campaign of his Lieutenant Governor, Vernon J. Brown, whom he prefers as his successor.

"After that, the first thing I want to do," he said with a grin,

"is to 'uncomplicate' my life."

The governor, only 51 years old, explained that he wants to reestablish a normal routine of life within his large family, and to reengage in his Detroit law practice.

That's a man-sized job, in his opinion, and can hardly be classed as "retirement."

While denying that he holds any further political ambitions, Kelly admitted that his years in public office have given him a strong interest in politics. He doesn't plan to submerge this interest entirely, he said, but merely to relegate it to the level of his other activities.

Large and robust despite a World War I injury that cost him a leg, Kelly is winding up an office-holding career that began in Illinois in 1919 when he was elected a state attorney, corresponding to a prosecutor in a Michigan county.

He later moved to Detroit and became an assistant Wayne county prosecutor. In 1935 he took over as manager in the Detroit area for the state liquor control commission.

After a term as secretary of state, Kelly was elected governor in 1942 and reelected in 1944.

He will be the first chief executive to step down voluntarily since William A. Comstock left the capital in 1934.

Buchman Honored At Iron Mountain

Iron Mountain—A. G. Buchman, prominent Iron Mountain druggist and member of the state board of pharmacy, has been awarded the coveted American Druggist citation for outstanding community service, it was revealed by Don Smith, chamber of commerce secretary, following notification from John W. McPherrin, editor of American Druggist magazine, New York.

Recognized as one of pharmacy's highest awards in the nation, the citation was given the Iron Mountain druggist for "unselfish services in behalf of your community, demonstrating the kind of public service which all businessmen can and should perform," according to the letter received from McPherrin. The American Druggist editor advised Smith that the attractive plaque presented with the award will be forwarded.

Mr. Buchman is recuperating from major surgery at Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., and according to his family, is expected home Sunday. Presentation of the plaque will be made at a Rotary luncheon meeting early in July, Smith said.

Walleyed Pike Are Biting Heavily At Ford River Mouth

The walleyed pike are biting voraciously at the mouth of the Ford River, according to reports from a large number of fishermen who have been fishing there recently.

Glen McCrory, 210 Stephenson avenue, landed the largest walleye of the season to date Sunday while fishing at Ford River. It was a nine pound, 15 ounce specimen, 31 inches in length. The big fellow was one of the full limit caught by McCrory and his fishing companions Sunday.

Another party of six caught their limit of 30 walleyes at the mouth of Ford River Sunday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Demars, 314 No. 21st st., Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crepeau and two sons, Bib and Melvin, Old State. Mrs. Demars landed a four pound, three ounce walleye Sunday.

John Swed caught a 9½ pound Northern pike yesterday at the yacht harbor.

Quincy Mining Co. Gets Good Results

Although its mine is shut down, the Quincy Mining Co. is getting good results from its reclamation plant at Mason on Torch Lake. It is averaging a little better than 5½ pounds of copper from each ton of waste and treated. This is better than a 70 per cent recovery. The plant operations are on a satisfactory and profitable basis and undoubtedly this condition will prevail for many years as there are many millions of tons of sands in the deposit.

The average cost of production in 1945 was 10.59 cents per pound before depreciation and depletion charges, but with interest payments of $32,924.84 during the year to the Metals Reserve, included. This covered interest at 4 per cent per annum on the unpaid balance of the advance made by Metals Reserve for the erection of the plant. Production of refined copper from the plant during the
